Music While Drowning German Expressionist Poems

The term expressionism "was probably first applied to music in 1918, especially to Schoenberg", because like the painter Wassily Kandinsky (1866-1944) he avoided "traditional forms of beauty" to convey powerful feelings in his music (Sadie 1991, 244). Theodor Adorno interprets the expressionist movement in music as seeking to "eliminate all of traditional music's conventional elements ...

Music While Drowning German Expressionist Poems

Music whilst drowning is an exciting new anthology of German Expressionist poems, many of them newly translated. The editors David Miller and Stephen Watts, rather than drawing on existing compilations, have followed their 'own concerns and emphases in the final choice of both text and translation' (p.117).
